The Zamani Foundation continues to work with local charities to support families like those of Rahima Yahya.

The Zamani Foundation makes direct food contributions to Afghan families who are struggling financially or who suffered a recent tragedy. One of those is the family of Rahima Yahya, whose widow was struggling to provide for the family which includes her son, who has disabilities.

Statistics

- Dry food provided in May and November 2019 and February 2020

“In 2019 the Zamani Foundation twice provided support to the widow and her children.”

The sustainment lasted into 2020 and the Foundation expects to continue support in various way. This was one of 20 families in Kabul and Eastern Afghanistan who were the Zamani Foundation, working with local charities to identify those in need, directly provided food to those in need. These contributions are part of a sustained, multi-year effort to reduce hunger in Afghanistan.
